Borth News

Rifle Range. Dr. Harries moved that immediate steps be taken to secure a shooting range for musketry practice in the neighbourhood of Aberystwyth on an extensive scale. Dr. Harries added that he made that proposition with an ulterior good object.

The troops while at Aberystwyth had been trained as far as things went. The inhabitants had been good to them and so had the elements, and they left in excellent health. The men were taken away in order to undergo musketry training, for which there were no facilities at Aberystwyth, and until there was a range the town could not expect to have troops to any great extent.

It was not an easy matter and there were many points to be considered; but he believed an extensive range could be provided in the neighbourhood of Borth, on land the property of Sir Edward Pryse who was a warrior bold. Mr. Rhys Jones seconded the proposition and it was agreed to and the Council went into committee.
